

Aftercare – Thread Lifting

Congratulations!

You have just undergone thread-lifting from one of Australia's leading expert Cosmetic Physicians. Your procedure has used the highest quality TGA approved threads to lift sagging skin, and restore collagen.

Please refer to the below information to ensure the best outcome and optimal healing.

What to expect.

- Your lift will be visible immediately, with results generally improving over 3 months as your body produces collagen.
- Swelling and bruising may occur, and will generally resolve over 1-2 weeks.
- You may feel and hear clicking of the threads. This is normal, and should stop after 2-4 weeks.
- There may be general discomfort, and slight sharp pain intermittently for 2-4 weeks.
- Slight itching around the insertion pain may occur as the skin heals.
- Mild puckering and dimpling of the skin around the insertion point that usually resolves over 1-2 weeks.

What to do.

- Apply ice and pressure to the treated area at 15 minute intervals for up to 12 hours to reduce swelling and bruising.
- Have a warm (not hot) shower the evening of the procedure, and wash your hair gently to clean the scalp skin.
- Avoid hot temperatures for 7 days to reduce swelling.
- Refrain from strenuous and high-impact exercise for 2 weeks to reduce swelling and prevent a loss of lift.
- Leave any dressings applied in place for 3 days.
- Do not apply makeup to the insertion points for 2 weeks.
- Abstain from alcohol for 48 hours to reduce bruising.
- Sleep upright on 2-3 pillows for 3-5 days to reduce swelling.
- Delay any non-urgent invasive dental procedures for 2 weeks after your procedure to reduce the risk of infection.
